Do you know where you're going to?

As graduation draws nearer, seniors are faced with questions that pertain to their futures. Is college a part of your future? Are you planning to attend a trade school? Is a job awaiting you? Is an armed services career one of your viable options? Do you know where you're going to?

We are part of a progressive age that allows us to set our sights on any goal that appeals to us. It is not enough, however, to dream of goals we hope to reach. We must take the necessary steps to achieve them.

Work hard at whatever you attempt, set your goals in reachable steps, and KNOW WHERE YOU'RE GOING TO. Then, GET THERE!

Deborah Carter takes a stroll on campus.

Barbara Baker and Stacey Saunders enter auditorium to hear speaker for the senior installation ceremony.

Do you like the things that life is showing you?

Shakespeare laid it on the line
One day some moons ago.
He prophesied and gave the sign
That men should make a show.

He claimed in Caesar loud and clear
That fate is in man's hand.
He only needs to stand and steer
And claim to all "I can!"

Do you like what life is showing you?
Are you pleased at what you do?
Take control of your existence:
Make your goals come true for you.
L. Carter

Miss Cavalier

On October 26, 1981, a gala spectacle occurred at the Marshall building. It was Marshall-Walker's third annual "Miss Cavalier" pageant. It featured seven ambitious young women from the Marshall-Walker Complex.

The first contestant, Miss Gay Robinson, was introduced in a lavender dress. In the talent contest she performed a creative dance routine to the sounds of "Get It Up." Miss Robinson highlighted her performance with a lavish, pink chiffon evening gown.

The following contestant, Miss June Townes, was introduced wearing a plum colored, long sleeved chiffon dress. For the talent portion of the contest, June sang "Home" from the Broadway production "The Wiz." Miss Townes enhanced her performance in the evening gown competition by wearing an evening gown, with a gold belt.

The third contestant, Miss Felicia Turner, made her entrance wearing a white dress. For her talent display, Felicia performed a modern dance routine to the song "Fame." During this performance, Felicia wore a white leotard with glitter trim. To conclude her performance, Miss Turner wore a white, short sleeved evening gown with lace trim.

Welforette Adkins, the fourth contestant, was introduced wearing a two-piece, burgundy suit, highlighted by a lavender blouse. For her talent display, Welforette sang the theme from "Mahogany" while dressed in a burgundy top and beige straight-legged pants.

Contestant number five, Miss Kimberly Brewer, was introduced wearing a two-piece black velvet suit. For the second segment of her performance, Miss Brewer sang "One Day in Your Life," a recording by Michael Jackson. She was outfitted in a blue-green jumpsuit, highlighted with a beige belt and beige shoes. Her final outfit, for the evening gown portion was an elegant silvery gown with deep slits, that she accented with a jeweled necklace.

Miss Valerie Bland, the sixth contestant, made her entrance wearing a gold dress. For her talent display, Miss Bland performed a song monologue combination of the song, "Good Morning, Heartache." To conclude her presentation Valerie wore an ivory long sleeved evening gown with a bronze neckline.

The final contestant, Miss Sandy Simpson, was introduced wearing a peach-colored dress. For her talent display, Sandy performed a creative dance routine to the song "Pull Up to the Bumper." During this performance, Sandy was bedecked in black leotards with a wraparound skirt. Miss Simpson's performance, in the "Miss Cavalier" pageant, concluded with her appearance in a dazzling white lace evening gown.

and Court

The students responded resoundingly to performances by the Jazz Band, and especially to Linwood Alford with his rendition of "Just Be My Lady," a recording by Larry Graham. Linwood is a junior at Marshall-Walker and enjoys singing. When asked how the screams from the audience affected him, he replied, "It was fun – interesting really. I'd be willing to do it again."

The pageant was followed with voting by the student body. One voting was held in the auditorium, while the other was held in the homerooms. Kimberly Brewer was crowned "Miss Cavalier" during the halftime activities at the homecoming game which was played at city stadium. Valerie Bland and Sandy Simpson were her attendants.

Valerie Bland, First Runner-up

Sandy Simpson, Second Runner-up

Kimberly Bonita Brewer, Miss Cavalier, describes the contest as an enlightening experience. She is quoted as saying, "I am not running for either vanity or popularity, but instead, because I feel it to be a great honor to represent the Marshall-Walker Complex and to wear the crown of 'Miss Cavalier'."

Kim is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Anthony Brewer. In past years, Kim participated in such activities as the Concert Choir, the Glee Club, the Drama Club, and the Forensics Club. Her ambition is to further her education at Hampton Institute where she hopes to receive a bachelor of science degree in biology. She plans to attend medical school with the prestigious title of "Miss Cavalier" behind her.

Valerie Bland is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn O. Bland, Sr. Mr. Bland is a Customs Clerk in Management at Bellwood Federal Defense Center. Mrs. Bland is a teacher in the Richmond Public School System. Valerie ran for "Miss Cavalier" because she wanted to show everyone that the contest is not built on beauty, but on some brains also! She wanted to give the shy, different person the inspiration to try for higher goals. In past years, Valerie has participated in the Spanish Club, S.C.A., and the School Musical. Valerie also is a great believer in school spirit. Miss Bland's future goal is to become active in early childhood development as a pediatrician.

Sandy Denise Simpson is the daughter of Mrs. Leona G. Simpson and the late Samuel Edward Simpson, Sr. Sandy was born February 11, 1964, in Richmond Community Hospital.

Sandy says she is proud to have been one of the participants in the contest for "Miss Cavalier."

Since Sandy has been at Marshall-Walker, she has participated in numerous activities including the French Club, the Marching Band, Homeroom officer, Pep Club, Flag girl, Future Homemakers of America Club, Senior Advisory Council, Junior Achievement, Talent Search Program, and Health Occupations Students of America. Sandy plans to participate in more organizations and activities throughout the year.

Sandy is now enrolled in the Practical Nursing Program at the Richmond Technical Center. After completing this course, her plans include enrolling in Hampton Institute's Program for Registered Nursing.

"Meet your host and hostess for the Miss Cavalier pageant for 1981-82," were the words that began the beautiful homecoming pageant. Upon hearing them Jimmy King and Guarnetta Fleming appeared from behind the back stage curtain.

Jimmy King, a senior at Marshall-Walker, was selected by Mrs. Marie Shelton, pageant director, to host the Miss Cavalier pageant. Since Jimmy was one of Mrs. Shelton's better students, she thought he would be perfect for the job. "It was a very enlightening experience and it helped me in my speech class," commented Jimmy King.

Guarnetta Fleming, the hostess for the pageant, is also senior class president. Traditionally, the senior class president has hosted the Miss Cavalier pageant. But this year the duo worked with harmony. When asked how she liked being the hostess for the pageant, Guarnetta replied, "I loved every moment of it. I hope I can do something similar again."

After the pageant was over and the votes were tallied, Jimmy and Guarnetta's job was over. But who knows, maybe we will see them again doing something very similar in the near future.

Horns a Plenty

The 1981-82 Marshall-Walker High School Stage Band consists of twenty-three talented musicians. Their names are as follows: on alto saxophone, Shawnee Atkins, Kurt Kever, and Steve Taylor; on tenor sax, Kalvin Long; on baritone sax, Eddie Gray; on trumpet, Edgar Anderson, Tim Hunter, Michael Jones, Clarke McMorris, and Duan Ruff; on trombone, Corwin Brown, Curtis Jefferson, Carey Mitchell, and Darryl Walker; on piano, Clifton Coward; on bass guitar, Algie Gregory; on lead guitar, Vincent Canada; on drums, Tony Gonzalez, Ervin Harvey, John Jones, Glen Thomas, and Owen Wilson; and last, but not least, the only female member of the group, Sheila Roane, on the marimba. The Stage Band is directed by Mr. Tuscan Jasper and Mr. David Williams. In addition to playing for various school activities, the band frequently plays for many activities outside the school. The Stage Band offers a different type of music. It isn't like the music you hear on "Magic 99," nor is it like the music the concert band and the orchestra play. Some people call it jazz, but you can call it what you want.

Where Do We Go From Here?

The official installation of the senior officers of the Class of 1982 was held for the 327 seniors in the auditorium of the Marshall Building on Oct. 13.

Before the processional, the look of seniors, donned with the class colors of lavender and cream, appeared to be tense. However, after the invocation by Welforette Adkins, class chaplain, the tension eased. After an appropriate original selection by the Marshall-Walker choir "Where Do We Go from Here?" the speaker for the ceremony, The Reverend Leontine Kelly, was introduced.

Rev. Kelly, daughter of a Methodist minister, attended West Va. State College and later earned her Master of Divinity degree at Union Theological Seminary in Richmond. She is a member of the Richmond School Board and pastor of the Richmond United Neighbors and is the first black to receive the Monroi Wicher Award from the Union Theological Seminary.

In a moving and inspiring speech, she pointed out that although reaching your senior year is an accomplishment, it is not enough.

Quoting from a book by Blaine Taylor, Real Life, Real Faith, she emphasized that seniors should choose the direction of their lives very carefully because they will be in that course for a long time. She said the major decision that they make now will affect them the rest of their lives, and that no one can give them a given set of values or decide how they will treat others.

Another important aspect of her message was that it isn't just the physical appearance or clothes that make a person, but rather his ability to reach goals.

Touching on one of the problems facing many adolescents, Rev. Kelly expressed her strong belief that teenagers should develop the ability to make the right decisions about their sexuality.

Finally Rev. Kelly pointed out that your family's sacrifices and hopes are tied into your family's accomplishments so that the burden of doing well in this first step towards a career is up to the senior.

At this conclusion, the audience gave her hearty applause. The students were attentive as coordinating principal, Mrs. Iris Metts, installed the new senior class officers. The choir then rendered a selection entitled "Nothing Comes to Sleepers but a Dream" featuring Carla Poteat and DeeDee Lynch as soloists.

The Class of 1982 sits attentively and listens carefully to the speaker, Rev. Kelley, during the senior class installation program.

Vice president, Raymonia Eddleton, and president, Guarnetta Fleming lead processional.

Rev. Leontine Kelly, speaker for the senior installation ceremony, makes a point.

Dignified seniors march in the recessional to the tune of "Pomp and Circumstance" — Patricia Berryman, Joseph Robinson, Robert Robinson, Carolyn Chavis, Yvette Allen.

Set Goals High

In final remarks, our principal, Mr. Roger LaCourse, admitted that although they face budget restrictions and limitations, the Senior Class should reach for the best and challenge the new class officers to provide lines of communication, administer class needs, and build a foundation on which the class might grow along with traditions. Officers installed are Guarnetta Fleming, president; Raymonia Eddleton, vice-president; Deborah Sills; secretary; Morris Dewitt, treasurer; and Welforette Adkins, chaplain.

The program ended with the benediction by the class chaplain, followed by the recessional to "Pomp and Circumstance."

Do You Get What You're Hoping For?

As Junior Class President last year I felt that the class of 1982 had made many accomplishments, including our first class trip. I also learned by holding this position that the students' interests, likes and dislikes varied. However most of the students wanted their prom at the Hyatt House and wanted to be photographed in tuxedos and drapes. This was accomplished.

This year, as Senior Class President, I have more insight concerning the wants, needs, ambitions and concerns of the members of the senior class. Seniors wanted a dignified prom, baccalaureate and graduation. Students were concerned about senior competency tests. Naturally, they wanted to pass. The question on their minds and mine was, "Do you get what you're hoping for?"

My philosophy is "If you fail to plan, you may as well plan to fail." We have decided, along with our coordinating principal, that we are willing to plan and work hard to accomplish our goals, and we'll get what we're hoping for.

From Class Leaders . . .

Students who stand out in a crowd – that's what superlatives means. They range from quietest to most spirited, tallest to shortest, and many other categories. Seniors in each homeroom nominated persons for each category. A ballot was constructed, which was given to each senior. Seniors voted for a male and a female from each category. The categories were as follows: class leaders, most musical, class couple, most dependable, class neatest, most talented, class quietest, class shortest, class tallest, most talkative, most likely to succeed, class clowns, most athletic, most popular, class scholars, most cooperative, most versatile, most spirited, best actors, best dancers, most attractive, class friendliest and class flirts.

Class Leaders: John Overton and Guarnetta Fleming

Class Shortest: Eddie Tolbert and Chandra Connor

Class Tallest: Ronnie Wade and Monyvette Kee

Class Scholars: Margo Wells and Willie Hilliard

Most Likely to Succeed: John Overton and Felicia Friend

Class Couple: Deborah Sills and Michael Carter

Most Athletic: Ronnie Wade and Monyvette Kee

Most Versatile: Monyvette Kee and Dwayne Scott

Class Clowns: Wilbert Taylor and Michelle Parker

Class Neatest: Raymonia Eddleton and Eddie Tolbert

Most Talented

Class Friendliest: Junious Tyler and Tanya Hocker

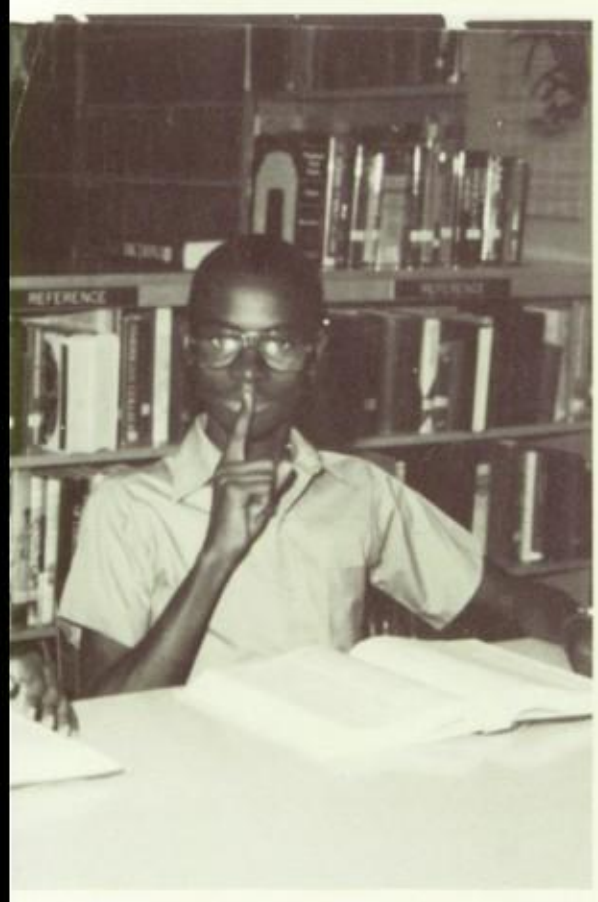
Most Cooperative: Guarnetta Fleming and John Overton

Most Popular: Wheknown Jasper and Ronnie Wade

Quietest: Margo Wells and John Bryant, Jr.

Class Flirts: Daphne Anderson and Bernard Stephens

Most Musical: Sheryl Alston and Corwin Brown



Most Talkative: Daphne Anderson and Wilbert Taylor

Most Dependable: Junious Tyler and Guarnetta Fleming

Best Dancers: Sheila Goode and Joh Brown

Most Attractive: Faye Davis and Darryl Brown

Most Spirited: Wheknown Jasper and Maurice Briggs

Best Actors: Valerie Bland and Junior Tyler

Most Talented: Clara Brown and Ronnie Wade

Chasing Fantasies?

We as seniors thought that time would always keep us doing the same things (going to school, going to McDonald's, getting in the lunch line, cutting classes, buying clothes, going to shows and chewing gum). As we were growing up we saw exactly what we wanted to see in life.

Unaware of how much school was a part of our lives and loved by us, our minds did not tell us that things would change. We laughed at what we thought was humorous, oblivious of the serious answers, the serious situations that could occur. Life was one big laugh. Free could be used to describe this phase in our lives.

As we move to another phase in our lives, where we will have to be responsible for ourselves, not blaming others for our actions, our mistakes, we begin to realize that life has a serious side. Free? What does the word mean now? It means being able to laugh at our mistakes, but refusing to repeat them!

JUNIORS

At Byrd Park on Sundays

For many, Sundays stand for long, boring days with nothing to do but go to church; yet, for Cavaliers, Byrd Park is the difference between a weekend and a great weekend! Whether it is to have a picnic, to show off their cars, or to wash, wax and shine them, or just to have a good time, students always find the park one of the most pleasurable spots in the City of Richmond. Some students sit near the lake and feed the ducks, while others stroll, meet new people, lie on the grass, play games, or just relax.

Sundown Truck

After a long day, students unwind by making a trip across the student parking lot. There, they purchase goodies from the Sundown Snack truck. For many it has become a daily ritual to journey to the truck or their day just isn't complete. This truck houses many goodies such as pickles, candy, cookies, soda and ice cream. Students who are involved in after-school activities purchase these refreshments to "hold them until dinner." Many students leave the building at the sound of the bell, not to catch the bus, but to catch the truck.

Rally! Rally!

The pep rally was present at last. Everyone from all the four classes attended. It was Friday, sixth period and the grueling day was just about complete. The beat was soft in the opening seconds until the Juniors thunder with spirit, shattering all the dull, drab chatter of hypercritical underclassmen. Leaping to their feet in spirit, the Juniors began to take over the cheering by chanting the words, "The class to be — the class of '83'."

Thundering voices, great and unbearable, began to echo only one word . . . JUNIORS. After all of the commotion and chaos, the Juniors crowded onto the floor at the end of the pep rally, chanting, singing and dancing to their own beat. Finally, trying to get home, they all dashed to the buses, still chanting and cheering, "JUNIORS, JUNIORS." The football team came out victorious that night by defeating Petersburg.

Designer – Designer – Designer

Marshall-Walker's students take great pride in their appearance each and every day! A casual stroll through the corridors and cafeterias reveals a variety of such designer names as Chic, Sassoon, Calvin Klein, Paul Jordan, Christian Dior, Givenchy, Jordache and Izod LaCoste. If it weren't for the ever-present learning atmosphere around the complex, you would think you were at a high class fashion show! With Yves Saint Laurent in the main office, Bill Blass in the student parking lot, and Nike, Addidas and Pony in the main gymnasium, the complex is always on top when it comes to current trends in dressing.

During our homecoming week we designated one day as "Preppy Day." Many students wore many designer items on this day, such as Oscar de la Renta, Ralph Lauren, Sergio Valente, Gloria Vanderbilt and Levis. There was a contest for the best designer outfit.

SOPHOMORES

Caught in Between

Sophomores feel that they are too old to be called children, yet too young to be called adults. They often feel caught in the middle of the freshmen and upper classmen. Many days they feel uncertain about their position among the student body. However, they feel very proud to be called Cavaliers!

Artists at Work

Due to a decrease in student enrollment, Marshall-Walker's art department has only one art instructor, Mrs. Ann Miller. However, this has not stopped student interest, enthusiasm, participation or production. Wall murals, which have added to the beautification of the school building, have been completed; self-portraits have been painted and various craft projects have been enjoyed by all of the students. Mrs. Miller also sponsors the Art Club which has been busy with many projects and activities including planning a trip to Washington D.C. to visit the Smithsonian Institute.

Future Scientists

Many students at Marshall-Walker plan to pursue careers in medicine, research, nutrition and many other fields where chemistry plays an important role. There are various chemistry classes here at Marshall-Walker, including accelerated courses for advanced students. Some of the interesting activities in chemistry include heating and bending glass, heating and observing sodium fluoride and separating formula into separate elements. Some of the students are enrolled in chemistry classes at J. Sargeant Reynolds.

Marlon Marshall prepares for a chemistry experiment using the Bunson burner.

On Wednesday, September 31, 1981, Richmonders noticed a bitter taste and a foul smell in their faucet water. Richmond had been introduced to algae water and the only cure for it was rain.

People of the Richmond area began to look for a new source – area park springs. County wells became a source for people who had relatives in the county. The media – television, newspaper and radio – advised boiling the water. Some persons said ten minutes of boiling would get the job done. Others said they had better luck boiling the water from 45 minutes to an hour.

The water situation also affected area businesses. Fast food places and 7-Eleven could not sell fountain drinks because the ice smelled and tasted bad. Richmond Ice Company had to shut down.

For the supermarkets our loss was their gain. Stores reported a more than 15% increase in beer sales. There was also a larger increase in the sale of sodas, both bottled and canned. The hottest item on the market during this crisis was spring water.

Meanwhile, the city of Richmond received help from its superior, the state government, and the neighboring counties of Chesterfield and Henrico offered free water from fire hydrants. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers brought water to area fire stations. The National Guard supplied tank trucks to the Medical College of Virginia Hospital.

On October 7, as a public service, three local Safeway stores offered free drinking water. Among them was Safeway International.

Scientists fought the problem with all kinds of solutions, among them carbon. The water was tested every day. Finally, in late October and early November, reports flooded the media saying that the algae had moved down the stream. Then, like a quick craze – such as disco dancing or baggy pants – it vanished.

In every situation there is some good and some bad. As a result of the crisis, the members of the community showed that they could work together. The reports of disputes in the city went to second page. There were stories of people acting from their hearts, offering free water. We experienced state and city government in action. The government and the people of Richmond deserve special recognition for their togetherness in this situation; however, it took a crisis to cause this to happen.

A Million Combinations Only One Solution

What do you call a six-sided object whose sides can be turned in a seemingly infinite number of color combinations; an object with only one correct solution to match all the colors together on their respective sides; an object that comes in a variety of sizes to be tackled by everyone from first graders to government officials? Well, what is it, you say?

It is called the Rubik's Cube and it is probably the biggest game craze since the yoyo craze of the 70's! Absolutely no one can resist the urge to try to unravel this mind-boggling, geometric puzzle. Cavaliers apparently are no exception. Rubik's Cubes have been spotted in every part of Marshall-Walker at one time or another! It has become a usual sight to see a student eminently bent on the task of finding the solution. However, until something new comes along to steal our curiosity and determination, the Rubik's Cube will be around for a long time to come.

A Tradition

"In the Military or the ROTC, the rising and lowering of the flag is basically a tradition, and is a form of respect towards our nation," says Company Commander Alphonze Blunt.

JROTC is basically a program to prepare students who want to join the active military service. It takes a great deal of dedication, and discipline to be a part of the JROTC program. This program teaches students such things as, the history of the Armed forces, and of the United States, and it gives each Cadet mutual respect for their fellow man.

Cadets take pride in raising and lowering the flag, a basic tradition.

Adapts

The Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, Georgia, received monies from the Federal Government to award Risk Reduction Grants throughout the United States. Alcohol and Drug abuse Prevention and Training Services (ADAPTS), in conjunction with the American Cancer Society (ACS) were fortunate to be selected as a joint agency to participate.

ADAPTS and ACS have designed two programs utilizing as a common bond a Teacher Sponsor working with both programs. Stipends are available for the teachers' contribution to the program.

Mrs. Seay and Mr. Kitt sponsor the ADAPTS program at Marshall-Walker. There are nineteen students in the program. Meetings are held during the school day. The purpose of the program is to help fellow students deal with any problem that they may have and to help students find a way to deal with every day problems. Each student in the program is considered a peer facilitator.

An effort to bring the schools, the business community, and government into an effective partnership to do something about preparing young people for productive careers has been a model of success. Richmond Public Schools, Virginia Commonwealth University and such businesses as Hunton and Williams Law Firm, Reynolds Metal Company, Phillip Morris, Rome Telephone Company, Chamber of Commerce, Best Products, United Virginia Bank, Jarvis Telephone Company and Bottled Gas Corporation all work together to provide basic academic skills and long-term work experiences to students who have been identified as having the potential for success in a demanding work setting. During the school year, each student has one class period of instruction daily and his schedule modified so that he can be available for his job by 1:00 p.m.

Give Him a Mike!

Probably the hardest English test for anyone is to talk continuously with rhythm and to make sense at the same time. Some call it wild, some call it outrageous, while others call it RAP-PING! It is now one of the most popular forms of music and has taken America by storm. A quick mind, a good memory, a natural sense of rhythm, and the right voice, are the qualities necessary for a shot to stardom.

Superstar rappers range in age from eight to thirty years old. Falling into this range is Marshall-Walker's own musical, magical man on the mike, John Johnson. Better known to us as the Master Jay, John is a junior in the Marshall building. During our Homecoming Week '81 activities, the Master Jay gave his final word on the Jaguars of Armstrong-Kennedy in a rap that set the student body on fire. Master Jay has some good advice for everyone – "You'll never know how important your English class is."

John Johnson raps to the students during homecoming week, as Corwin Brown waits to give the morning announcements.

Music! Music!

Now this is definitely on top when it comes to music in Cavalier Country! When Marshall-Walker's own Blues Brothers, John "Jake" Johnson and David "Elwood" Stith, said they wanted to put the ultimate sound system in their "Bluesmobile," they were not kidding around!

The two juniors in the Marshall building custom-built this mobile sound system which packs a devastating 500 watts. With Elwood behind the wheel and Jake running the music, these two personify the Cavalier spirit with the latest sounds around! Would you believe the Bluesmobile, which is really green, can be heard for three blocks when it's on the go! What will they think of next?

Do you get what you're hoping for?

Mrs. Gail Fitchett, Secretary, is welcomed back from maternity leave by Mrs. Geraldine Lowry, Guidance Secretary.

Everyone at Marshall-Walker High School has hope – a desire accompanied by expectation of or belief in fulfillment. Just what do the students, teachers, and administrators hope for or expect for the 1981-82 school year? While some students hope for a year of fun and excitement, of academic honors and of a state basketball championship, others look forward to meeting new friends, participating in extracurricular activities and socializing with their friends at lunch.

The administrators hope that the students will gain learning experiences that will help them to think clearer, to achieve more and to be self-disciplined throughout their lives. The opportunities available here are endless; however, it is up to the students to take advantage of these so that this school year will rank as one of the best that they have ever had.

Along with the students and administrators, the teachers have a great deal of hope for this academic year. Not only do they wish for well-disciplined students who are cooperative and eager to learn, but they also expect them to be highly motivated, to be in class on time and to be responsible for their own actions and achievements.

Will we get what we are hoping for? Only time will tell. Let's wait and see.

Marshall-Walker – Past, Present and Future

Mrs. Iris T. Metts
Coordinating Principal

THE PAST

The 1981-82 school year marks the third year of existence of Marshall-Walker High School. The creation of Marshall-Walker through the consolidation of Maggie Walker and John Marshall offered a solution to the many problems that threatened to weaken the fine record of academic excellence established by Richmond high schools. Reorganization was recommended after a 1977 study revealed a need to upgrade our high school facilities. This same study projected a declining student population that would severely limit high school enrollments over the next five years. With the assistance of a task force composed of parents, students and school staff, a plan for consolidation was devised. Thus, with the start of the 1979-80 school year, Marshall-Walker High School established a new tradition of green, blue and white and "cavalier" pride.

From the inception of Marshall-Walker High School, students from both the Walker and Marshall buildings showed a willingness to embrace and cherish the "cavalier" tradition. Much success followed: curricula offerings were expanded to assure inclusion of Advanced Placement Courses, Psychology, Calculus, Metal Technology and other specialty courses in the high school program that were threatened by declining enrollments. Our athletic teams achieved district, regional and state honors. Marshall-Walker became a respected name in competitions throughout the State of Virginia and the nation. JROTC, drama, music and the arts became a major focus of interest and avenues for achievement for our students.

Transportation between the two campuses was provided by a shuttle bus system operated by Marshall-Walker students. We discovered in our travel between buildings that talent, academic excellence, friendship, school pride and a winning tradition were not characteristics of the students in just one building, but such attitudes were attributable to Marshall-Walker students in general.

Student leaders from both buildings worked hard to promote a spirit of oneness with such special events as "unity week" held at Virginia Union University in 1980 and "Homecoming II" in 1981. In retrospect, one cannot help but admire the high degree of unity shown by the Marshall-Walker family in just three short years of existence.

THE PRESENT

Those who projected a declining enrollment were proven to be correct for in 1981 Benjamin Graves Middle School was forced to close and that student body moved to the Maggie Walker building. This school year marks the establishment of Marshall-Walker High School as a secondary school with an enrollment of 2,400 students in grades six through twelve. "Junior Cavaliers" – students in grades six through eight in the Walker building, have already contributed to the "cavalier" tradition by their spirited support of all school activities. The closing of Benjamin Graves also necessitated the movement of all eleventh and twelfth grade students to the Marshall building.

The Adopt-A-School program is a special partnership between our school and two Richmond based businesses that has greatly enhanced our academic program. Marshall-Walker (grades nine through twelve) is adopted by Best Products. The middle school component (grades six through eight) is adopted by the Life Insurance Company of Virginia. Among the many benefits derived from this program are the Best Products $1,000 scholarship awards, on-site visits by students to Best Products for mini-courses in printing technology and word processing, assistance given to students with job interviews, participation by adopters in Career Fairs and special incentive awards for students given by adopters.

The Adopt-A-School program is a most profitable partnership for Marshall-Walker. Our association with Best Products has led us to adopt as our school motto – "Marshall-Walker Is Best."

THE FUTURE/A PLAN FOR CONTINUED EXCELLENCE

The Marshall-Walker staff is committed to assure each student opportunities for success. Thus, at the beginning of the 1981-82 school year, we resolved to carry out the following plan for academic excellence:

1. To help our students develop the highest degree of self-discipline.
2. To establish the highest level of academic expectations for our students.
3. To increase the ability of our students to acquire knowledge through improvement of their study and thinking skills.

To promote this plan for excellence the "Brain of the Month" project was initiated. Each month a Marshall-Walker student will be cited for his or her ability to compete academically. None of our plans for achieving academic excellence are viable without a student body committed to strive for the lofty goal of excellence. Examine your goals, examine your motivations. Remember!

You are your heritage and values. You are who you have the courage to be. Never doubt your ability to achieve and to continue to grow intellectually. Believe in yourself, take advantage of all that Marshall-Walker offers now and the future will truly offer greater opportunities. I am confident that much success awaits you for you are a part of one of the finest student bodies to be found in any school.

Basic Purposes of Our Guidance Department

The basic purposes of our Guidance Department are:

1. To help students understand themselves.
2. To help students adjust to their environments and the daily changes which they must encounter.
3. To help students benefit the most from attending school.
4. To help students learn more about their own interests and abilities.
5. To help students build lifetime skills of decision making and educational and career planning.

The seven counselors who compose the staff offer individual and group counseling and guidance to assist students in many ways. As a rule, students are assigned to a counselor in Grade 9 and remain with that same counselor through graduation. The guidance secretary and records secretary assist students and counselors in working to accomplish the purposes of the department. Counselors work with principals, teachers, parents and persons from outside agencies and institutions to provide as much service to students as necessary to aid adjustment. Counselors also meet on a regular basis with the nurse, social worker, psychologist and attendance worker to further discover strength and seek remedies for poor adjustment and/or failure to do academic work successfully.

Planning for required tests and explaining the results to teachers, parents and students is necessary for better understanding of the interests, abilities and limitations of students. Information about special tests which are needed to enter the armed services, colleges and for job placement is regularly offered to students.

Visits with persons in the world of work and college representatives are coordinated by the counselors to aid students in making wise choices. A library of career materials, college catalogs, pamphlets and filmstrips is available for use in the Career Resource Center in each building. A computer terminal is also available to offer up-to-date information as students explore occupations, colleges and sources of financial aid. Bulletins are regularly prepared to give information about employment, scholarships, trips, new courses and summer study. Additional exploration is possible through participation in Career Week activities, College Day, Job Fair and Financial Aid Seminars which are annual events.

Students are guided as they select courses for the following year. Teachers and counselors share this responsibility so that students may know what each subject involves. Every student is assured of the chance to complete a skill for employment or the completion of subjects required to enter the next level of education or training which they desire. Rquirements of a student's choice of a curriculum are carefully studied and reviewed each year according to the student's career plan.

Teachers and administrators benefit especially from the service of the Guidance Department to increase understanding of students with special needs. The team approach to helping students who are gifted or limited is used.

Doing all that we can to develop self-direction is the aim of the Guidance Department.

Members of the Guidance Department are: Miss Ronda Dandliker, Mr. Larry Kitt, Miss Judy Smoot, Miss Sylvia Statton, Mrs. Betty Williams, Mrs. Carolyn Jacobs, Associate Coordinator and Mrs. LaVerne Spurlock, Coordinator.

Food Place Has a New Face.

Teachers in the Marshall Building were pleasantly surprised recently when the teacher's cafeteria was refurbished. Complete with round tables and cloths, condiments, vending machines, and atmosphere, the attractiveness of this eating place serves as an enticement to the teachers. It has become a desired location for teachers on "break." Although the staff was asked to contribute items from home to spruce up the traditional eating room for teachers, the credit for actually executing the task can be handed to Mr. Roger LaCourse, principal, and Ms. Barbara Tinsley, biology teacher.

Shortly after the premiere opening of this facility, the catering classes, under the direction of Mrs. Jackie Tunstall, planned "Teacher Appreciation Day" in the room. Delicious delicacies, prepared in the Home Economics department, were served to the teachers during their planning and lunch periods.

Art work and photographs completed by students adorn the walls of the "new" cafeteria. If utilization of a facility is any indication of its success, then this venture can be called a "resounding" success.

Teachers find the new cafeteria atmosphere very pleasant.

Jack of All Trades

Whether she is at the xerox machine copying work or at her desk checking grade sheets, Mrs. Welsh gives her best to whatever task she performs. She is always eager and willing to help both students and faculty members whenever they are in need of her services. Not only is she responsible for student records management and senior ranking, but she also maintains the statistical data file and supervises financial accounting for the entire school. Marshall-Walker High School encourages Mrs. Welsh to keep up the good work.

Mrs. Kathy Welsh, Office Assistant, smiles as she performs one of her many tasks.

Involved Speech Therapist

The Speech and Language Program is a part of a continuum of services provided by the Richmond Public School's Department of Special Education. Speech and language therapists are involved in (1) identifying students suspected of having a communication handicap, (2) providing detailed assessment (evaluation) of current functioning of students so identified, and (3) developing and implementing intervention strategies for these students. Itinerant speech therapists provide individual and small group therapy to pupils with speech and language difficulties in all elementary, middle, high and special schools. Pupils are identified through city-wide screening and through individual referrals.

Mrs. R. C. Dandridge is the speech therapist in the Marshall building. She comes on Tuesdays and Fridays and spends the entire day working with students who have been referred to her. Mrs. Dandridge's office is located in the guidance wing of the building, which makes for a conducive therapy session. Our speech therapist's warm and affectionate personality encourages positive response from students as well as faculty and staff.

The Cavalier Family Gets Long-Term Substitues,

Mrs. Sharon Boisseau enjoyed substituting for Mrs. Rita Mosely in English and Mrs. Mary Keys in Home Economics.

Mrs. Brenda Tribett, who substituted for Mrs. Kathy Branch in Reading, spent a lot of time grading papers.

As a substitute in Mrs. R. Young's German class, Mr. Tola Merid had many opportunities to speak the language

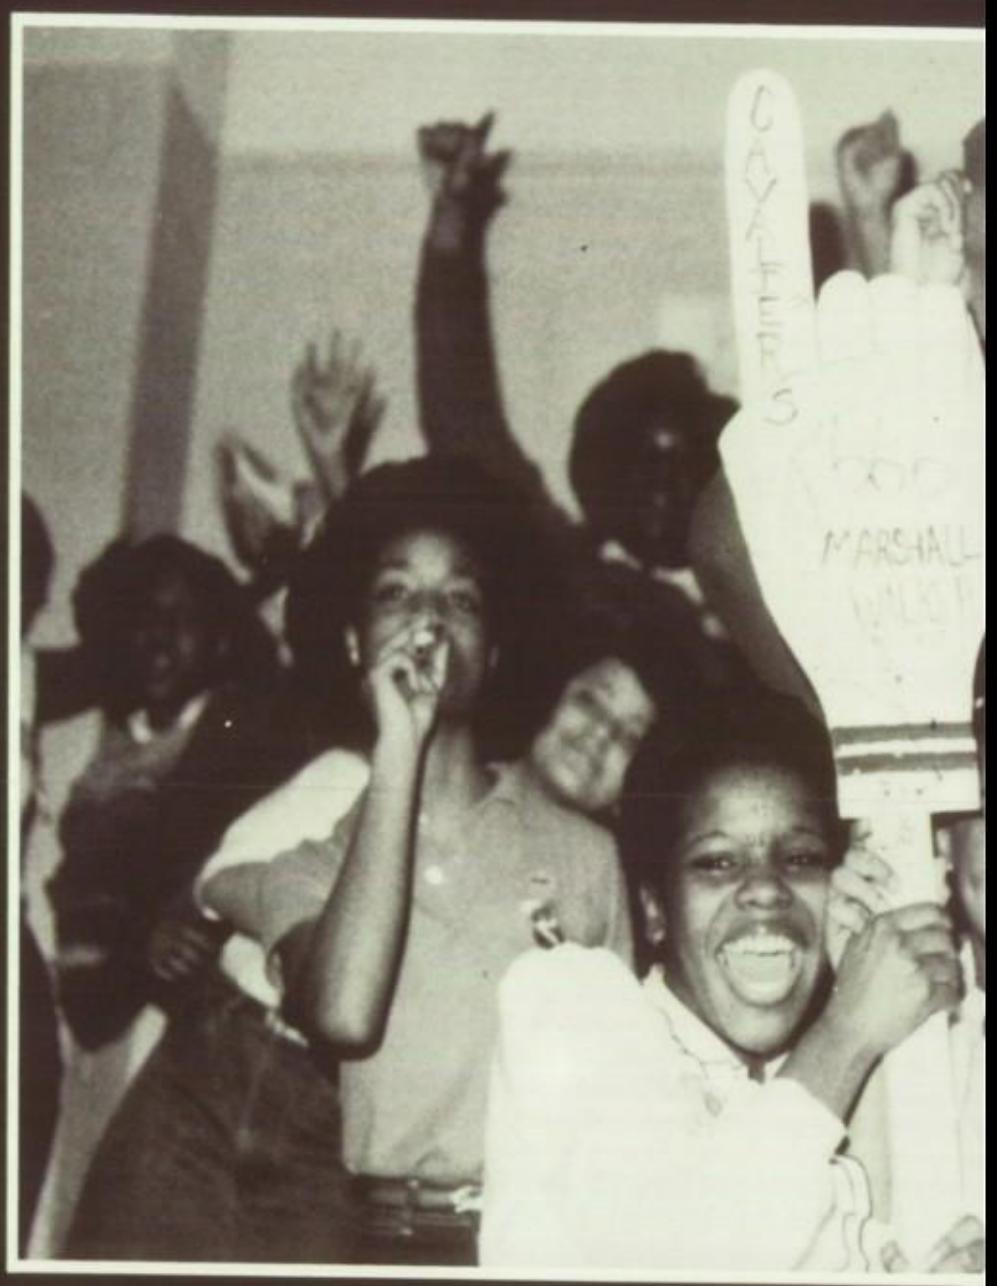
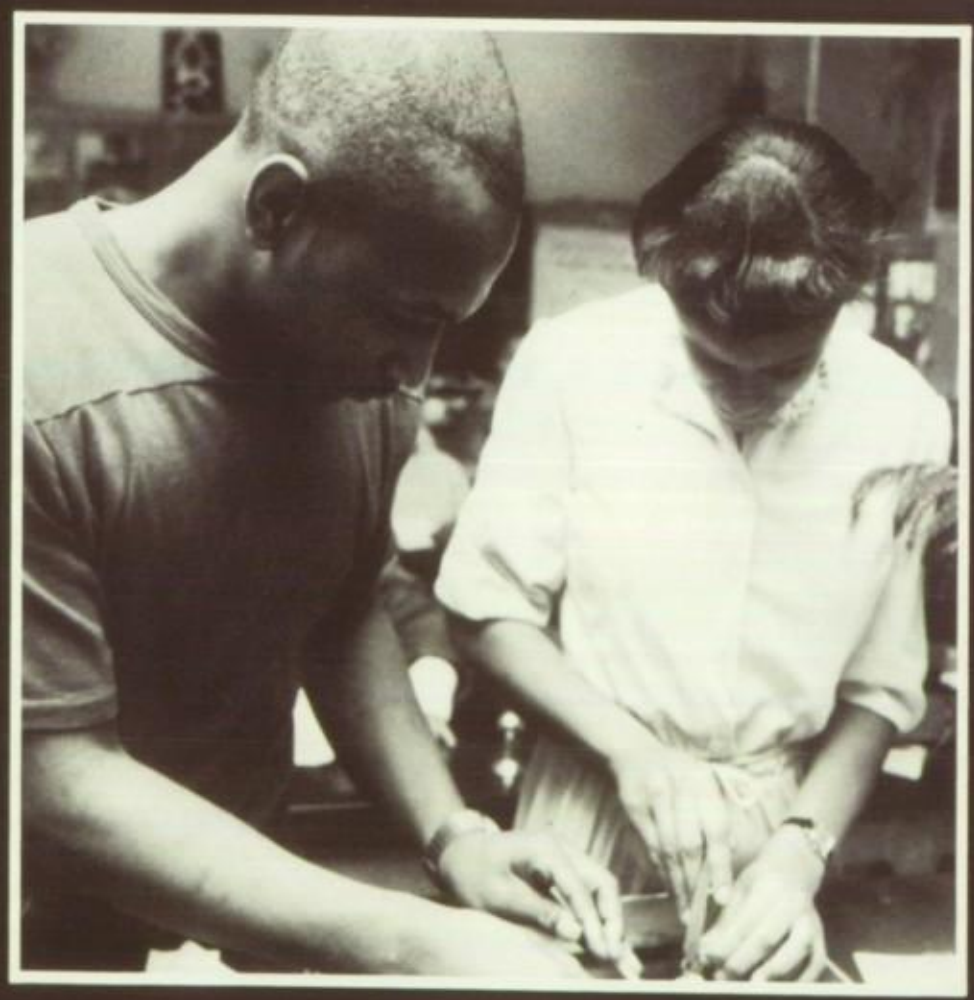
STUDENT LIFE AT MARSHALL-WALKER

Student life at Marshall-Walker could be described as full. Students are actively involved in classes, clubs, pep rallies, friendships and other wholesome activities. If one should walk through the halls once the tardy bell has sounded, he would wonder whether or not the students are present because the only persons visible in the hallways are Mr. LaCourse, Mrs. Whiting, Mr. Stephens, Mrs. Roane, or Mr. Hutson. Students at Marshall-Walker take pride in themselves and in their school.





Students are aware of the importance of the semester exams, the competency tests, SRA, punctuality, discipline and respect for authority, as well as respect for each other; therefore, they pride themselves in getting to school on time and doing the job expected of them once they get there. Test scores have improved, and with the wholesome attitudes developed by some and maintained by others, they should continue to soar.

Catering Students Honor Teachers

In honor of Teacher's Appreciation Day, the catering and food management class at Marshall-Walker prepared hot and cold hors d'oeuvers for 125 teachers. The catering classes worked hard for three consecutive days. The comments from the teachers to the classes were very great. The menu consisted of the following: pecan cheese balls, relish trays (stuffed celery, carrot curls or sticks, cucumber sticks, cherkin fans, radishes), open face sandwiches (ham salad, chicken salad, cheese spread), ham biscuits, drummetts, Swedish meatballs with wine sauce, danishes, cheese and sausage balls, breakfast links with sauce dip, grapefruit balls with spears of sausage, cheese chunks, cheese tidbits, onions (pearls) and olives. This activity was really a great experience for the classes since it prepared them for their second occasion of catering for a National Honor Society reception.

The National Honor Society's Second Annual Christmas Tea was also catered by Marshall-Walker's catering class. The class decorated the dining room with electric lights, a Christmas tree, garland, a gingerbread house and mistletoe. The menu consisted of five decorated cakes, ham biscuits, cupcakes, peanuts and fruit punch.

Plans include catering the Christmas party for the faculty, catering the third Annual Creative Writing Contest and visiting different restaurants for lunch and dinner. Birthday cakes will be made and decorated for students enrolled in catering. The students will exchange names and design and decorate cakes for each other.

Cindy Thornhill, Michael Carter and Claude Hines prepare a cake for the National Honor Society luncheon.

Best Products Adopts Marshall-Walker High School

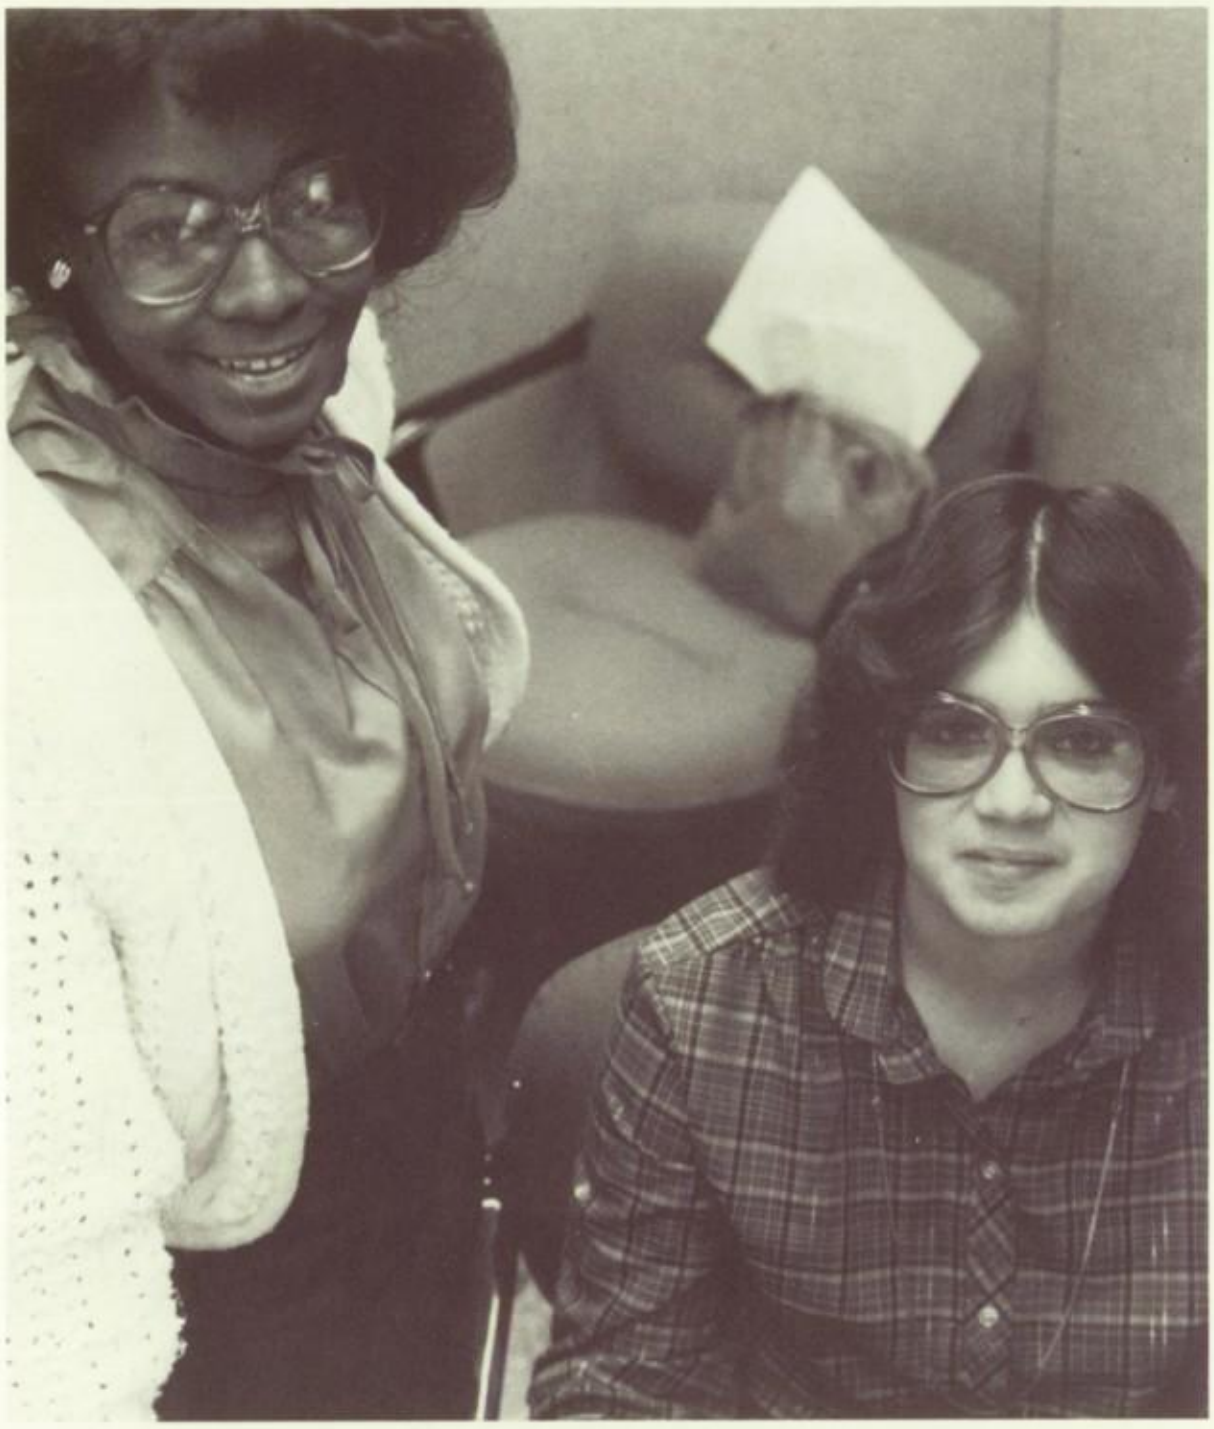
The Adopt-A-School project is designed to provide a supportive link between school and business. The relationship is viewed as a two-fold opportunity – to help the public fully understand the free enterprise system and to assure that business will receive the very best product from the school system.

The benefits of such an adoption include increased career awareness and dialogue between business representatives and educators, improved job hunting skills and improvement of students skills to compete in the job market.

Adopt-A-School is not a new idea. It has been successfully practiced in several dozen cities from Philadelphia to San Francisco and Dallas to Denver.

Journalism Class: Eric Thompson, Dwayne Scott, James Allen, Eric Thornton, Kim Brewer, Michael Herring, Martha Brown, Nadine Marsh, Robin Brown, Gregory Connor, Stephanie Rouse, Albert Richardson, Linnita Dandridge, Tara Drake, Andrea Coles, Ms. Carter, Emily Fisher, Mrs. Liggins, Clarence Patterson, Eddie Tolbert, and Ingrid Saunders.

Mr. Ivory Johnson, supervisor of the Print Shop for Best and Company, explains printing procedures to Cavaliers, Myrna Richardson and Nadine Marsh.



During this past school year, the yearbook staff, along with the journalism class, have been the guests of Best Products Company's "in plant shop" reprographics area as a part of the Adopt-A-School program.

Assisted by Mr. Ivory Johnson and Mrs. Judy Wallace, students were given a brief introduction to the requirements needed to hold a position in that area. After a brief talk, the students toured each area to observe the shop in action. So that the visits would be meaningful, hands-on activities were planned for each group in one of the printing, quick copy or forms management sections of the shop. For special projects, students made bookmarks, letterheads, door signs and note pads.

The "adoption" establishes a very close relationship between Marshall-Walker High School and Best Products. The specifics of that relationship will be developed as the needs of the school are identified and the ability of Best Products to help meet those needs is determined.

LaPLUME STAFF GETTING IT ALL TOGETHER

During the summer of 1981, the Taylor Publishing Company sponsored its annual yearbook conference at Hermitage High School for all students and advisors who were currently on the yearbook staffs of the area high schools. For two days, staff members Corwin Brown, Kim Brewer, Guarnetta Fleming, Linnita Dandridge, Debra Person and advisor, Mrs. Ola Dandridge, attended classes that gave them pointers on doing layouts, writing copy, taking photographs, selling techniques and editing material for the yearbook. Since the 1981 edition of the yearbook, La Plume, had won a second place award from the Virginia High School League, the staff members were determined to make the 1982 edition even better and to maybe capture the first place award this time around.

Even though the students met daily at a regular class period to work on the yearbook, they devoted extra hours after school and even completed some of the assignments at home in order to have a good yearbook. Along with co-editors Peter Strayhorn and Maurice Briggs and assistant editor Myrna Richardson, the La Plume staff consisted of Morris Cephas, Linnita Dandridge, Willie Hilliard, Andrea Smith and Corwin Brown who did layouts; Karen Pettis, Raymonia Eddleton, Guarnetta Fleming, John Johnson, Darryl Walker and Millicent Harris who did copy; Karen Pettis, Debbie Sills, Linnita Dandridge and Debra Person who typed; and Ronnie Wade, Melanie Randall, Nadine Marsh, Karen Williams, Yulanda Thompson, Janice Thorpe, Junious Tyler, and John Stevens who worked with the patrons, ads, and sales.

Although each staff member was his own person with his own distinct personality, each proved that everyone could work together for a common goal. As the deadlines approached, the members showed that by adding their own individualities and talents to the book, they could produce an end product that would be outstanding.

Many students at Marshall-Walker High School give their time and service unselfishly to make life more pleasant and meaningful for others. The assistants in the office and the library volunteer their services for at least one hour a day. Not only are they helpful to the office staff and the librarians, but they are also gaining experience that could be helpful to them in the future.

The Key Club and the Tri-Hi-Y, which is affiliated with the YMCA, are both dedicated to helping others in and around the Marshall-Walker community. At special times of the year, they sponsor activities which show those who are less fortunate that someone really cares about them.

INSTALLATION HELD

The members of the Marshall Chapter FBLA plunged into planning the year's activities with unprecedented enthusiasm.

The newly elected officers are: president, Stephanie Hawley; vice president, Patrice Johnson; secretary, Janice Thrope; reporters, Athena Sherman and Marcia Middleton; historians, Senecca Hill and Georgie Jones; treasurer, Keith Green; and parliamentarian, Chandra Connor.

Lora Johnson wore the coveted crown of "Miss FBLA" during half-time ceremonies at the Armstrong-Kennedy Marshall-Walker game. The runners-up were Senecca Hill, first; Patrice Johnson, second; and Deneen Wood, honorable mention.

We have successfully undertaken two community service projects – preparing a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family and contributing $90 to the Salvation Army's Shoe Drive.

Plans are being finalized for our weekend field trip to New York City. Our itinerary includes, among other things, a tour of the New York Stock Exchange and the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. We will also see the Broadway show "Sophisticated Lady."

In the Science Wing

The Science Club is in the process of initiating a school wide paper drive as a money raising activity. Paper will be collected on Wednesdays and Fridays.

On Thursday, February 18, the Science Club sponsored a lecture and slide presentation which was given by Mrs. John Westbrook III. A follow-up visit to MCV to view the electron microscope is planned. Additional lectures are planned on such subjects as the effects of smoking on the lungs and genetic engineering.

Other tentative activities include a visit to the Virginia Science Museum for the monthly "Sky Watch" on March 19, a club fair in which students will display research projects, competition in the Virginia Science and Math Conference in Hampton in April and ecology field trips to the James River Park, Maymount Park and Seashore State Park.

JROTC

The JROTC program started a week before the official opening of school at summer camp held at Fort Lee, Virginia. Training included map reading, physical conditioning, confidence course and orientation of active duty training. They also experienced firing the M-16 rifle.

The beginning strength of the cadet corps was 71 persons which later rose to a high point of 174. The current enrollment is 152.

The JROTC objective for 1981-82 was learning the meaning of JROTC. They accomplished this through experiences in oral and written communication, health and hygiene, map reading and lessons on drug abuse. The corps was successful in carrying out these objectives.

Another important objective was character and leadership development. This objective was achieved by participation in parades, community activities, such as helping with the homecoming pageant and ushering at various assemblies, including the Miss Homecoming program. The corps also presented the color guard and provided ushers at a special program at Henderson Middle School. Student leadership is evident throughout the battalion by assigning cadets as leaders of squads and platoons and as commanders of companies.

LTC. William Nabors says that in another year he'd like to see improved discipline within the corps with 160 dedicated cadets.

Go! Mighty Cavaliers!

Marshall-Walker cheerleaders are always practicing to cheer the teams on to victory. The cheerleaders support the teams at all the games, both varsity and junior varsity, and keep their spirits up. Win or lose the Marshall-Walker cheerleaders are there cheering their hearts out. Marshall-Walker cheerleaders won a trophy for the most spirited squad at the University of Richmond competition. This boosted their morale and made them want to cheer even more. When the cheerleaders cheer, they think about having fun and enjoying themselves. The cheerleaders also get in the groove as they dance to the beat of the band.

Do you know that at M-W A. D. means Athletics Director?

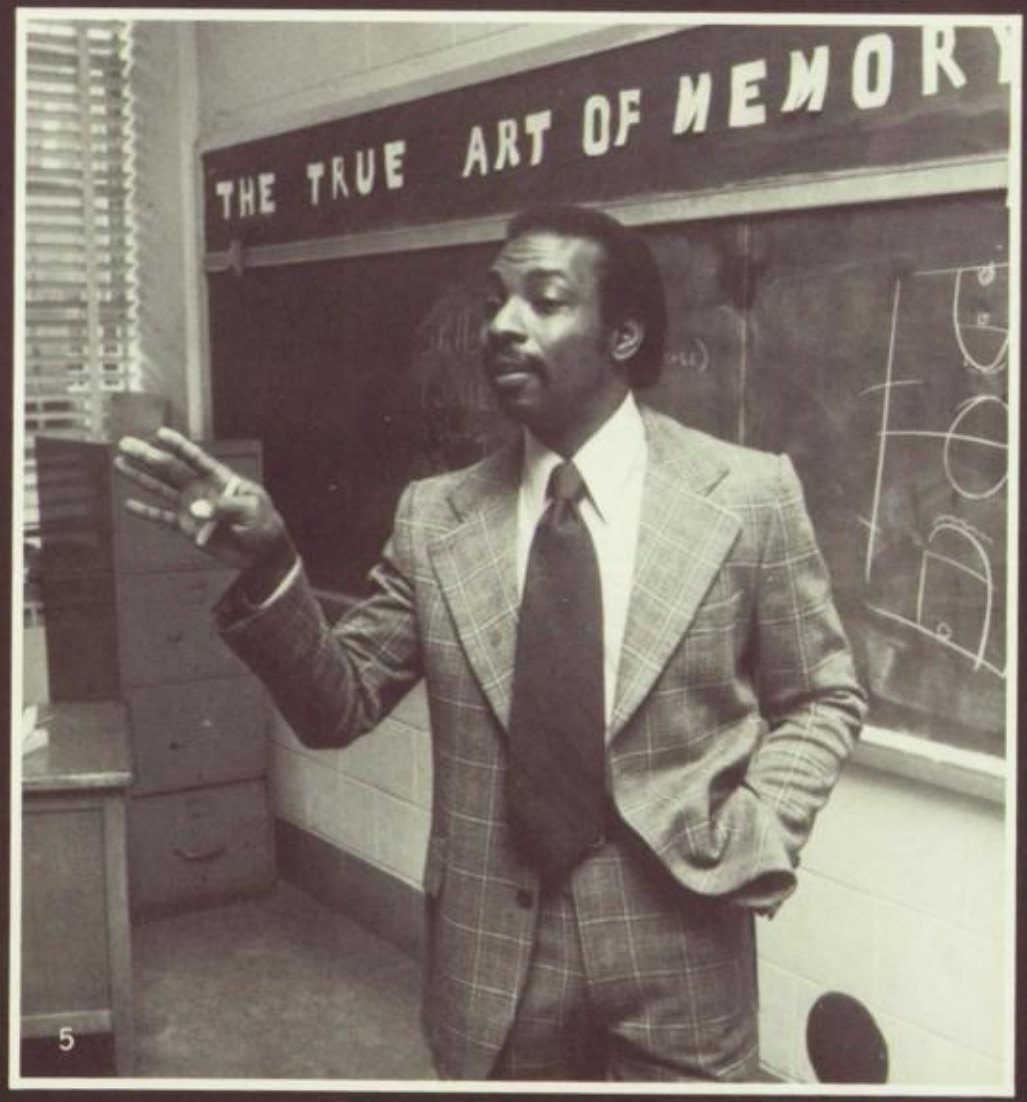
The job description for Athletic Director specifies that the person so designated must plan, direct, and supervise, not only athletic events but also other extra-curricular activities such as drama, forensics, and debating.

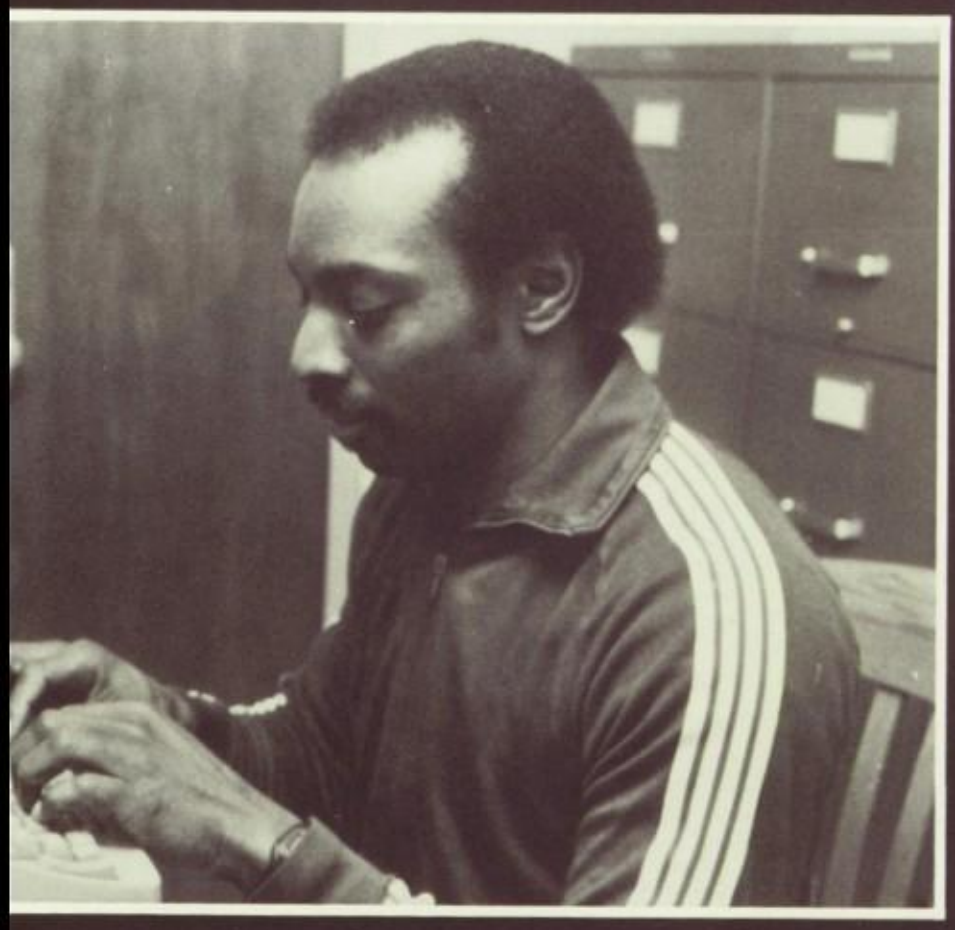
Marshall-Walker High School has an athletics director who accomplishes the criteria for the job AND much more. Howard Douglas Hopkins, A.D. for Marshall-Walker High School since the 1980-81 school year, is a "Man for all seasons." Moving about in the green and blue attire that has become his trade mark, Hopkins is as comfortable planning a sell-out Christmas tournament as he is moving chairs on the gym floor to accommodate overflow crowds.

Graduating from Fayettville College in North Carolina after only 3½ years of study, Mr. Hopkins received the Master's degree from Virginia Commonwealth University in Educational Administration and Supervision.

He taught physical education in Washington, D.C., where he was regarded as a disciplinarian. Teaching first at Maggie L. Walker in Richmond, then moving to the Marshall building of the Marshall-Walker High School, Howard Hopkins is regarded by those who know him as a hard worker, proficient organizer, perpetrator of school spirit, and a believer in the development of the "whole" student.

Besides the 1500 fans who hold him in high esteem at the Marshall-Walker High School, Mr. Hopkins receives the support of Edith Hopkins, his wife and Avi Hopkins, his son.





6. Lecturer. Mr. Hopkins not only fills the five positions listed on these two pages, but he has a fast ball pitch you wouldn't believe.

Coach Lou Anderson preps CAVS before kickoff.

The Marshall-Walker Cavaliers football players and coaches were asked to give up two extra week of summer vacation to prepare for the first annual NORTHSIDE BOWL, pitting the Cavaliers against the Warriors of Henrico High School.

Preparing for Henrico was no easy task as sixteen members of the team were in summer school until August 7, and practice started August 3. But as they say in Hollywood or on Broadway, "The Show Must Go On!" So Coach Lou Anderson and his staff put together a training session to begin the CAVS football season. With 110 participants working 2½ hours twice a day, the CAVS were ready to open the 1981 football campaign.

The show was to start at 8:00 p.m. and 6,000 fans jammed into Chappell Stadium as the Warriors kicked off to the CAVS. Both teams' defenses prevailed during the first 24 minutes and with a score of 0-0, the first half ended.

Leonard Hopkins is off and running with pass from Grooms.

The fourth quarter began like the first three ended, 0-0. But our offensive team decided enough is enough, and with the running of Derrick Vance, Dwayne Scott, and Eddie Tolbert, they declared, "End zone here we come."

Junior quarterback, Greg Grooms, moved the team into striking position with five pass completions to All-Region performer, Leonard Hopkins.

With the ball on the two-yard line of Henrico, quarterback Grooms put it in the end zone for the game's winning touchdown.

Our defense had to play hard for four more downs to seal the victory, as Anthony Watson picked off a Warrior pass.

With the victory celebration, everyone was happy, but no one said "Thanks guys for a job well done." No one asked the coaches about coming in early for practice, but everyone enjoyed the victory.

The Cavaliers — On the Road to Recovery

The Mighty Cavalier Football Team put together a 5-5 season with young and inexperienced football players; however, the CAVS met the 1981 football season head-on.

The CAVS started the season by defeating Henrico 6-0 in the first annual NORTHSIDE BOWL. The following week the CAVS lost a close game to Green Run, 14-12. Playing Prince George was the third game of the season, and the ROYALS prevailed 10-0.

Petersburg was picked as the district team to come to City Stadium to play the CAVS in the fourth annual JUNIOR BOWL game. Senior Dwayne Scott scored on a one-yard run and caught a two-point conversion pass from quarterback Greg Grooms as the CAVS won its third JUNIOR BOWL in a row — 8-7.

Gary Williams returned the opening kickoff 85 yards for a touchdown. In route to his three-touchdowns night, Gregory Grooms threw for two touchdown passes, one each to Josh White and Dwayne Scott as the CAVS rolled to a 32-0 win over Monacan.

Our next foe was third ranked (state rating) Garfield, and the CAVS lost 15-6, but led 6-5 at halftime.

Hopewell's BLUE DEVILS defeated the CAVS 26-6. Greg Grooms threw an 86-yard touchdown pass to Dwayne Scott in the loss. Afte a week of rest, it was the JHW TROJANS 14-0 winners over the CAVS.

Senior Dwayne Scott healthy once again ran for 185 yards; two touchdowns, Derrick Vance ran for 150 yards as the CAVS trounced Dinwiddie 33-6 on parent night at Hovey Field.

The CAVS closed out the season with homecoming against Armstrong-Kennedy at City Stadium. The CAVS led by the passing of Greg Grooms, the receiving of Darryl Brown (5 receptions), and the running of Dwayne Scott posted an 8-3 victory.

Cavaliers Finish in Regular Season

After having an up and down season, the CAVALIERS won their last two district games with wins over Dinwiddie and Armstrong-Kennedy, to finish in a tie for second place with Dinwiddie.

The CAVALIER coaching staff learned at the season's end that we were supposed to have played in the 1981 CENTRAL REGION FOOTBALL PLAY-OFFS, but a mix-up in the point totals prevented our playing. Petersburg played instead of the CAVALIERS.

team effort comes first. Each player does what he has been assigned in order to lead the Baby Cavaliers to victory. The junior varsity players work in preparation for the varsity program, each player putting forth every effort possible to enable him a position on the varsity squad. Field Hockey Team Faces a Challenging Season

With only four returning players, the Marshall-Walker Field Hockey Team had a challenging schedule. This schedule included playing such teams as Petersburg, Jefferson-Huguenot-Wythe, Armstrong-Kennedy, Monacan, and Hopewell.

The new players, most of whom had never played field hockey, along with the returnees, gave 100% in their efforts both in practice and during games.

The Marshall-Walker co-captains, Janie Emanuel, a junior, and Charmaine Smith, a senior, were nominated for the All Central Region Field Hockey Team. Charmaine was selected to the position of goalie on that team. This is the first time a Marshall-Walker player has received this honor. Charmaine traveled to Longwood College in Farmville, Virginia, in December where she represented Marshall-Walker in the Varsity Field Hockey auditions.

The Marshall-Walker Field Hockey Team is looking forward to an even more successful season in 1982 when scoring and winning will be added to the fun, comradeship and good sportsmanship that were evident this past season.

The excellent coaching staff and dedicated players made the Girls Varsity Basketball Team one of the most successful teams at Marshall-Walker.

Monyette Kee, the leader of the CAVS, put together 21 games in which she scored in double figures and rebounded in double figures. With Yvonne Fleming running the show as point guard, and Renee Jones, the coach on th floor, the Lady Cavaliers claimed 15 victories for the 1981 season, and finished second in the district, as well as the District Tournament.

The Cavalier Family must say goodbye to Monyette Kee, a two-time all district performer.

Lady Cavaliers Turn Learning Into

The girls' Junior Varsity basketball team was coached by the team of Jiggets and Harris. The young, inexperienced team showed good prospects for an excellent varsity next year. Three outstanding players were Eliza Stokes (guard), Barbara Burgess (center) and Pam Kee (guard). Also an outstanding player Pam Griffin was moved up to varsity for excellent defensive playing. Barbara Burgess is the J.V.'s leading scorer and rebounder as the J.V. finished with a 10-5 record.

Learning to play Cavalier basketball is no easy chore, but the Junior Varsity Lady Cavaliers under the superb coaching of Rafel Harris had a very good season. These ladies will help put the Varsity Lady Cavaliers back to their #1 position in the region and district.

Coach Harris knew that his work was cut out for him, but he was determined to prove that where there is willingness to learn, there is room to win. With this attitude the Junior Varsity Lady Cavaliers had a memorable season.

Cross Country season for the 1981 year was very successful. The boys team finished with a 6 and 1 record. They finished 3rd in the regionals and were the first complete team to participate in the state meet in 12 years. They also were runner-up to Monacan in the district team. Another outstanding accomplishment was that they finished second at the William and Mary Invitational, C Division.

The girl's team also had a very fine record 4 wins and 1 loss. Three of the runners on the girl's team participated in the state meet.

The theme for the 1981-82 basketball Cavaliers was "Doin' What We Do Best." The word best is defined by Webster's, 1. above all others, 2. most excellent and 3. best is the superlative of good.

Being the Central District champs for a third consecutive year makes them most excellent, and being undefeated in the district for a second straight year makes them good.

In 1969, the old Maggie Walker team won three Central Regional Championships in a row and the 1981 Cavs have made it three straight also, and that puts them above all others.

So perhaps Webster's definition of the word best should read... best (adj.), Marshall-Walker.

Cavs Capture Round 3 to Take Regional Crown

Marshall-Walker defeated JHW 49-44 in the regional finals on Thursday, March 4, 1982, to avenge two earlier losses to the TROJANS to take its third regional championship in as many years. The CAVS will advance to the state championship semi-final to take on the TITANS from T.C. Williams. News Leader writer Mike Harris reported the event as follows:

By MIKE HARRIS
News Leader Sports Writer

There are a couple of big reasons why the Marshall-Walker Cavaliers feel better about their chances in the state Group AAA basketball tournament that starts next Friday in Charlottesville.

One is experience. With their 49-44 victory over Jefferson-Huguenot-Wythe last night at the Coliseum, the Cavs annexed the Central Region title for the third year in a row, thus earning their straight trip to the state tourney. Several current players were members of the first regional champion team.

"Maggie Walker won it in 1971, after we lost in 1969 and 1970. Maybe this team will do something the third time," said M-W Coach Pierce Callaham, whose team had lost to JHW the first two times they met this season.

The other reason is definitely big. His name is Willie "Slim" Jennings and he stands 6-foot-8. His improved play late in the season has helped M-W overcome a slump and his inspired play last night was the key factor in M-W's victory.

Jennings, a junior, led M-W with 12 points and 10 rebounds. His scoring took a load off Cavalier stalwarts Ronnie Wade and John Stevens, both of whom had poor shooting nights. Stevens hit five of 14 shots, Wade only two of 14.

Defensively, Jennings and Wade played the primary roles in a 1-3-1 zone the Caveliers used to effectively shut off JHW's biggest threats, Greg Williams and Russell Spurlock. Williams and Spurlock combined took only 10 shots, making three. Of that duo's 21 points, 15 came from the foul line.

"Jennings played a heck of a game," said JHW Coach Bob Booker. "He was the difference."

Jennings' improvement and contributions of late have not been lost on his teammates. His seasonal shooting percentage is 61 and his scoring average 9.5. Both figures improved as the season progressed. He averages 9.7 rebounds a game.

"Jesse Dark (former Walker and Virginia Commonwealth star) has been working with him," said Stevens. "I think Slim has been inspired by that. I can tell that deep down Slim looks up to Jesse. Jesse tells him he's got to show everybody who is the boss. And that's what he's been doing.

"His improvement sure has helped us get where we are. I think he will continue doing that. We've all been complimenting him, saying, 'C'mon Slim, you can do it.' Now he knows he can control things if he wants."

"He had gotten himself together mentally," Callaham said. "He has all the ability in the world. He can do anything he wants. He's matured, that's what it is. He wants to play, and that makes a big difference for us. We can do a lot of things with him playing well."

Jennings scored six of his points in the final quarter as the Cavaliers held off another in a series of JHW comeback attempts. He also had an assist on a Wallace Brown three-point play that came with 1:59 to play, eight seconds after JHW had gotten within four points on a three-point play by Alvin Hicks.

But where Jennings really helped M-W win was on the defensive end in the first half. During that half, JHW went the equivalent of more than one quarter without scoring. In each period, the Trojans went more than four minutes without scoring as they tried and tried to get the ball inside.

"We knew if we even tried to play man-to-man with them that Williams and Spurlock would have done some awful damage to us," Jennings said. "We sat in a classroom for 45 minutes today going over their offense. We knew we would have to play that kind of defense all night long."

Said Booker: "We made some mistakes out of frustration. We expected that kind of defense. We still thought we could get it inside, but we didn't. Maybe we spent too much time trying to get it in. But you can always second-guess yourself."

JHW took an early 4-2 lead, then went 4:40 without scoring and fell behind 11-4. The Trojans pulled within one with 5:34 left in the first half before disappearing for another 4:22. In that span, Ronald Dark came off the bench to can three straight jumpers for M-W. JHW got a single point from the foul line prior to a pair of Jennings' baskets that made it 31-19 at halftime.

M-W's edge slipped to eight points going into the final quarter. The CAVALIERS came out in a stall. JHW patiently waited for turnovers, but turned it back over the first two times it got one. With Hickes scoring five points in a two-minute span, JHW got within four at 42-38 before Brown's three-pointer.

"We made some mistakes, which I'm sure we'll be reminded about," Stevens said. We've still got some work to do before we go to Charlottesville."

"We're going up for the weekend to watch all those games," Callaham said. "We'll be better prepared for the State. It's a matter of getting confidence and this win sure helped."

"We're happy we had a chance to be scrambling for a berth in the state," Booker said. "We've got nothing to be ashamed of. We've got to accept this and work hard to get there next year."

Williams received the tournament's Most Valuable Player award. He was joined on the All-Tournament team by Jennings, Wade, Stevens, Frank Tennyson of Highland Springs and Jerry Hargrove of Armstrong–Kennedy.

Highlights Basketball Season

On Saturday, March 13, 1982, Coach Pierce Callaham made modern day basketball history in the VHSL, by winning his third state basketball championship, his first two coming in 1972 and 1976 at Maggie L. Walker, and this his third in 1982 probably was his finest hour.

The CAVALIERS went through adversity and controversy to capture the 1982 STATE CHAMPIONSHIP.

On Friday night the CAVS played Northern Region Champs T.C. Williams High School in the semi-final round of four and defeated the TITANS 65-51. Ronnie Wade scored 26 points by hitting 10 of 14 shots from the floor and grabbing seven rebounds.

The word obsessed was placed on Ronnie Wade who had played in two other state play-offs. In the State championship game the obsessed Wade would not let the CAVALIERS lose.

With the CAVS trailing William Fleming 45-42, with 1:57 left in the third quarter, Ronnie Wade started a CAVALIER run with a tap-in. Ronnie scored seven straight points and Willie Jenn ings added two — all in 54 seconds — to give the CAVS a 51-45 advantage. The championship was signed, sealed and delivered to M-W when Wade stole a Fleming pass and dunked it with a Fleming player all over him and completed a three-point play.

"It had to be this way," said Wade. "Three strikes and you're out. This was the third strike."

Callaham said, "Ronnie refused to let us lose it. I had a feeling this would be it. It took us three times to get the first one."

Wade finished wi" a game high of 25 points and John Stevens added 18, while Willie Jennings had 14 rebounds and Bubba Johnson, the CAVS orchestrator at point guard, had 9 points and 6 assists.

Wade, Who saved the best for last, summed up winning the STATE CHAMPIONSHIP by saying, This fels good. The man upstairs is working for me me and just maybe I deserved this after the last couple of seasons."

JWH and Petersburg, who defeated the CAVS during the season, won the battle, but the CAVS won the WAR.

THIRD DISTRICT CROWN IN THREE YEARS

Coach Allan Coles A.K.A. (CUT) became J.V. Basketball coach in 1979 and has won his way to the district championship each year. This season was twice as hard as the first two mainly because Coach Coles searched until he found the players to carry on the J.V. tradition. With Keith and Lamont White, Joe Brothers, Neal Battle, Craig Coleman, All-World Andre Brown, Eric Guy, Robert Walker and Chuckie Taylor, the Cavs made a most successful run for championship number three. Coach Coles' J.V. Coaching record is 53 wins and 5 losses.

Girls' Softball

It was time to start over as the new coach, Mrs. Ola Dandridge, got the softball team together. The usual tryouts of about twenty changed to a turnout of about sixty girls ready and willing to learn the game called softball. One of the team's main problems was not being able to hit a fast-pitch ball. The solution suggested was the acquisition of a pitching machine, but we were not successful in our fund raising efforts for this project. However, our athletics director, Mr. Howard Hopkins, spent endless hours practicing with the girls, throwing his fast-pitch ball.

Ms. Sylvia Jiggetts, the new assistant coach, worked diligently with the girls until Coach Dandridge was able to complete other pending duties. The new coaches formed a duo that, along with the girls' willingness and determination, promised a successful season.

All of the veterans from previous years returned and were able to share their experience with the novice players, who fell in the majority. The new girls were anxious to learn the game and enter into competition. They welcomed the after school practice as well as the conditioning exercises, and anxiously awaited the first game.

This year the Marshall-Walker baseball team opens the season with a new coach, Charles "Chip" Bailey. Coach Bailey says he's looking for improvement and a run at a playoff spot based on the fact that eight lettermen return.

Cavalier veterans are outfielders Kurt Smith, Dwayne Scott and Eddie Tolbert, catcher Bernie Christian, and infielders Calvin Jones, Charles Mines, Antonio James and Steve Wind.

Experienced Players

Michael Herring aims for the ball and swings – with force!

The men's tennis team, coached by Mr. Reginald Lewis, is fortunate this season in that most of their line-up from last year is returning. Seeded number one is Michael Herring, who is followed by Darryl Walker, Timothy Mead, Kelvin Pride, John Jones, and Elbert Parker. First year players David Stith and Hia Hang should add significant depth. Also joining the team this year as trainer is Tim Hunter.

VARSITY SWIM TEAM

This year's swim team swam in about ten meets, and won five. The team competed with Charlottesville High, Granby High in Norfolk, Fork Union Military Academy, Massenet Military Academy, and Bishop Ireton Academy. Marshall-Walker's swim team was well respected by their competitors.

The team also celebrated "KISS DAY." On this day the team members competed with each other and prizes were given.

Coach Kouns support was praised by the team. Coach Kouns met with the team five days each week from 3:30-5:30 p.m. at the Calhoun Center.

Seniors Take Charge

On Wednesday, February 3, 1982, the seniors at Marshall-Walker High School participated in their annual Senior Administration Day. Under the leadership of senior teacher, Mrs. V. Anderson, a senior day committee was formed and together they made plans to have a day that they would always remember. Although the seniors voted for whom they wanted as administrators, they were allowed to select the teachers whose classes they wanted to teach for that day. Thanks to the cooperation of the administrators, teachers and especially the underclassmen, the day was a rewarding learning experience for the seniors. As a reward for a job well done, each senior who participated was given a day's pay — a check for $.10.

What Is RTC?

Located in the northside, the Richmond Technical Center is a school for students who want to learn technical skills. Students from area high schools attend the center for one-half day and take their graduation requirements at their home school. As a requirement, all students must be enrolled in a home school in order to attend the center.

There are primarily three general guidelines that the center uses to select its students. First, they consider the attendance record; a student must be attending his home school ninety per cent of the school year. Next, they consider the reading and math scores on the SRA test or the student's grades, which should be average or better. Finally, the scores on the Differential Aptitude Test should indicate an aptitude for the program in which the student is interested.

If a student wants to earn up to three credits each year plus those earned at his home school, then he should see his counselor right away for an application. The program at the Technical Center is available to most eleventh and twelfth graders. However, there is a cosmetology program open to tenth graders that requires that they attend a cosmetology class three periods a day for three years. Such courses as Welding, Practical Nursing, Nursing Assistant and Medical Office Assistant are open only to senior students.

Almost all good jobs today require specialized training beyond high school. It's not how many years of education a person has, it's what type. He should find out what type of education is needed in order to qualify for the career that he desires. Career planning takes thought and enough information to make a sound decision. The time and trouble that a student takes in planning his career will pay off time and time again.

The following is the third stanza of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Francis Scott Key* — words John Stafford Smith* — music

O — Thus be it ever when free men shall stand
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation!
Blest with victory and peace, may the heaven's rescued land
Praise and power that hath made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just, and this be our motto
"In God is our trust!"
And the star spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

We will always remember the 1981-1982 fashion show called "A Touch of Elegance." The fashion show was held at night with an admission charge of $3.00. The fashion show featured many new styles such as mini skirts, sailor suits, and outfits with tints of gold. It was truly an evening to remember.

Senior class officers are satisfied with a job well done: Morris Dewitt, treasurer, Raymonia Eddleton, vice president, Guarnetta Fleming, president, Debbie Sills, secretary, Welforette Adkins, chaplain.

– Sugar Ray Leonard is named Athlete of the Year
– Pleasant Colony wins the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness
– V.U.U. girls capture State title

But, Cavalier news will always be remembered:

– First year of Mr. Cavalier
– Newspaper won 2nd place in VHSL competition
– Yearbook won 2nd place in VHSL competition
– Cheerleaders won spirit trophy
– Varsity basketball team won district title
– J.V. basketball team won district title
– Varsity basketball team won regional title
– Football team won Northside Bowl
– Football team won Junior Bowl
– Cavalier fans make the news
– Cavaliers are struck by Cube Mania
– There was a big turnout for Charlottsville – We took 5 buses
– Basketball team won the STATE CHAMPIONSHIP!!

Yes, we know where we're going to. We like the things that life is showing us. We are striving to reach higher heights.

The Marshall-Walker Cavalier's Yearbook Staff would like to express our sincere appreciation to everyone who contributed and influenced the making of our yearbook, La Plume.

We would like to thank our advisors, Mrs. Ola Dandridge and Mrs. Linda Cobb for giving up those extra hours in the afternoon and at night to make this the best yearbook ever. Thanks to Mr. Richard McFee for his excellent job with the sports section.

Thank you, Mr. Danny DeFalco, for your support, guidance and help. Without your assistance we might not have received our yearbooks on time

Thank you, Ms. Carolyn Moore and Mr. Wally Ward, for handling the photography. Without your help we would not have had the beautiful pictures to go into the yearbook.

Special thanks to Ms. Lillian Carter's journalism class for assisting with the patrons' list and copy.

Thank you, Mrs. Juanita Coles, English Department Head, for your cooperation, moral support and assistance during deadline days.

Thank you, Administration, for your cooperation and help along the way.

Thank you, Faculty, for your patience with staff members on those many occasions when we asked to be excused from class to work on the yearbook.

And thank you, Marshall-Walker CAVALIERS, because without you there would never have been this year's book, LA PLUME.
